

The Week Ahead

House Republicans to Hold Three Border Security Hearings in Three States

August 28, 2006

House Republicans will continue to hold field hearings this week to examine the issue of border security, the inherent weaknesses of the Reid-Kennedy bill, and the impact that illegal immigration has on a wide range of issues. This week, two House committees will be holding hearings in three different states. The schedule for the week is below:

RESOURCES COMMITTEE

Hamilton, MT on Monday, August 28th – What efforts need to be undertaken to secure the federal lands along the Northern Border to prevent drug trafficking and other illegal activities? Could the Reid-Kennedy bill compromise our federal lands?

JUDICIARY COMMITTEE

Evansville, IN on Tuesday, August 29th – How are U.S. workers impacted, and potentially displaced, by the Reid-Kennedy bill?

JUDICIARY COMMITTEE

Dubuque, IA on Friday, September 1st – Do the Reid-Kennedy bill's amnesty provisions repeat the mistakes of the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986?
